

WASHINGTON & LEE'S FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Games All Arranged for Next Season's Campaign on Gridiron—Many Stars Are Expected to Swell Ranks of Players.

Lexington, Va., January 24.—Manager L. R. Hanna has just completed the football schedule for 1913, announcing a total of nine games to be played—with five of them abroad. The remainder in Lexington. Owing to the great showing the White and Blue team made last fall, many universities clamored for dates on the schedule. Pennsylvania State notably was anxious for a game and offered a November date, but since it conflicted with a game already scheduled, had to be called off. Franklin and Marshall wanted dates, but no satisfactory arrangements could be made with them. It was the great wish of the student body and the universal demand of the alumni that a game be scheduled with the University of Virginia, and although the management did everything possible, efforts along this line were unavailing. Washington and Lee was willing to draw up a two-year contract with Virginia, and under it meet the University eleven at Charlottesville for the first engagement, either to be played on neutral ground. More concessions could hardly be asked of Washington and Lee, and the Blue and White stands ready to meet Virginia under these terms, but for some reason the Charlottesville management was unwilling. Georgetown, at whose hands the only defeat of 1912 was suffered, does not appear on the 1913 schedule, since they could offer no agreeable date nor any sufficient guarantee. This is greatly to be regretted, since it deprives the Blue and White of the chance to even up the Hilltoppers for the defeat they administered last fall. Davidson for a number of years has found a place on the schedule, but the miserable showing the Presbyterians made last fall has caused them to be dropped, and a decided innovation is made in the scheduling of a game with Johns Hopkins University, to be played in Baltimore. It will be the first time these two schools have met on the football field and the game should prove a success. According to the three-year contract signed last year with North Carolina, the Tar Heels will be met this fall in Lynchburg. V. P. I. will, of course, be met in Roanoke, this "big game" to be played on November 1. After an absence of a dozen years, the University of Virginia again appears on the schedule, and on November 15th the team from the sister State will be met at Charlottesville, W. Va. No definite arrangements concerning a coach have been made yet, but the management is still working to secure again the services of Coach Reilly. His wonderful success of last fall has won him a place in the hearts of the W. & L. students, and there will be much disappointment if he is unable to come back.

The team will be led by "Buck" Martin, all-South Atlantic tackle, who will be playing his third year. Quite a number of the old men are expected to return. Beuhring, the hefty full back, is practically sure of being on the job, as are "Red" Moore, Schultz, Hieatt, Barker, Terry, Nebel, Donahue, Walton, and Carver. Captain "Fats" Miller, of the 1912 team, may possibly return, and there is also a chance of Rogers and Peoples coming back. Already it is certain that several prep schools stars will enter next fall, so there should be an abundance of material on hand.

The complete schedule is as follows: September 27—Medical College of Virginia, in Lexington. October 4—Roanoke College, in Lexington. October 11—St. Johns, in Lexington. October 18—Johns Hopkins, in Baltimore. October 25—Wake Forest, in Lexington. November 1—V. P. I., in Roanoke. November 8—University of North Carolina, in Lynchburg. November 15—University of West Virginia, in Charleston. Thanksgiving—A. & M. of North Carolina, in Norfolk.

MONTREAL CLUB LIKES VIRGINIA NATE CARTMELL TO TAKE WORLD TRIP

Squad Will Train at Charlottesville During Month of March. With Mike Martin, He Will Meet Professionals From All Countries.

Charlottesville, Va., January 24.—Henry S. Mackay, Jr., of Norwich, Conn., manager of the Virginia baseball team, to-day completed all arrangements for the return here, in March, of the Montreal Club, of the International League. Acting for President Litchheim, of the Montreal Club, he secured desirable quarters for the squad in what was formerly known as the University Hotel, on West Main Street, within a square of the college grounds. Meals will be served the players in the twin dwelling next door, by Mrs. E. F. Brown, who operates a student boarding house. President Litchheim wrote Manager Mackay that he would have his battery candidates here by March 15, ten days later than the scheduled arrival of Manager Clarke Griffith, of the Nationals, with his squad of pitchers and catchers. One week later the remainder of the Montreal squad will follow. One month will be spent here in practice on Lambeth Field at the University.

The Montreal Club was highly pleased with its stay here last spring. The players remained some while after their departure, and the Washington club, which encountered much better weather than did the Nationals. They were exceedingly anxious to return, and lost no time this spring in applying for permission to again use the University athletic field. Manager Mackay stated today that no games had yet been scheduled between Montreal and the college nine it is more than probable, however, that the clubs will meet a series of two or three games. As the Canadians report much earlier this spring than last, it is not improbable that morning games will be arranged with the Nationals. If such contests are scheduled, Manager Griffith, of the Nationals, will be given an opportunity to size up the material of the Montreal club. There is little prospect, however, of his siding with the visitors, though Mackay is said to have quite a likely string of players this year.

C. W. MURPHY OWNS HALF OF LEST PARK

Club Not in Deal, but C. P. Taft Is Partner in Big Deal.

Cincinnati, Ohio, January 24.—President Charles W. Murphy, of the Cincinnati National League baseball club, announced here today that he had purchased a half interest in the Philadelphia National League baseball park, and that the park only—not the club—now is jointly owned by himself and C. P. Taft, of Cincinnati. At the recent sale of the Philadelphia club to William H. Lewis and associates an agreement was entered into by which the Philadelphia club owners could purchase the playing field in 1913 for $600,000. Mr. Murphy said.

FEDERATION IS NOW A REALITY

Meeting Last Night Ratifies Action of Committee—Dr. C. M. Hazen President.

Eleven organizations were represented at the meeting of the Richmond Amateur Athletic Federation held last night in the auditorium of McGill Catholic Union, and they voted to adopt the constitution and by-laws and the slate of officers named by the committee appointed at the recent meeting held in the office of Mayor George Ainslie. Dr. C. M. Hazen, of the Medical College of Virginia, was named as president; M. M. McGuire, as first vice-president; Sheppard Crump of the Blues, second vice-president; Frank S. Touzey, of the Church Circle Association, secretary, and Allen J. Saville, of the Virginia Boat Club, treasurer. In addition, four members of the executive committee were named: Dr. Murrell and Messrs. Reithard, McGraw and Jones.

Mayor Ainslie addressed the meeting and told of what it aims to do, and how it could be a wonderful influence in the upbuilding of the citizens of Richmond by telling Richmond's young how they could improve themselves physically and prepare for the enjoyment of life. Dr. Hazen, accepting the office of president, told of the aims of the organization. It would touch the men already allied with some organization and would go after the men and boys who were members of no organization. The girls of Richmond would also be looked after, said Dr. Hazen.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held shortly, at which time the questions suggested at the meeting of officers named by the committee will be acted upon. The advisability of holding a meet shortly will also be discussed.

MISTRAL AGAIN IN BASEBALL SUIT COULD NOT FIND SUITABLE DATE

Jury Dismissed After Deliberating Case Without Reaching Agreement.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Roanoke, Va., January 24.—After many hours' deliberation, yesterday evening and another session today, the jury in the case of the Roanoke baseball club against C. H. Williams, who is suing for damages for the loss of the baseball season, failed to reach a verdict. The case was brought to trial yesterday, and the jury was impaneled. The case is the second mistrial in the history of the Roanoke baseball club. The first mistrial occurred in 1911, when the jury was unable to reach a verdict in the case of the Roanoke baseball club against the Roanoke baseball club. Abel Beats Brown.
Atlanta, Ga., January 24.—Mike Abel, the Chattanooga, Tenn., lightweight boxer, obtained the decision over Knickerbocker Brown, of New York, in a scheduled bout at the Auditorium here last night. The New Yorker was outboxed by the Tennessee fighter. Proceeds from the fight after the expenses have been deducted, will be placed in a fund being raised in aid of the expense of sending the 15th Regt. of the Georgia National Guard to Washington to participate in the inauguration of Governor Wilson as President.

M'GRAW IS STILL AFTER BIG TRIP

With White Sox, He Would Girdle Globe After Season Closes.

New York, January 24.—The round-the-world bee still is buzzing in the bonnet of John McGraw, and the proposition to take the Giants and another team on a globe-girdling jaunt, considered last year, has by no means been abandoned. Unforeseen happenings prevented the grand tour which was projected for last fall, but the prospect is better now for a trip next fall than it was for last fall. The arrangements for such a trip will have had more time to mature by the time the present baseball season closes, and by taking more time to perfect plans there is more of a likelihood for the trip this year than last.

If present plans for the trip materialize, and they are being put forth by men who are the sort to push them to a successful conclusion, there will be a round-the-world junket next fall by the Giants and the White Sox, the New York Nationals and the Chicago Americans. It is well known that Comiskey has been thinking of taking his White Sox around next fall and when McGraw was in Chicago last week he and Comiskey talked over a plan to have the Giants and Sox make the tour together. Both were in favor of the scheme—keen for it, in fact.

Representing the two biggest cities in the country, as well as the two leagues, McGraw and Comiskey are big attractions in those places in which baseball is known and popular. Honolulu, Australia, Japan, Manila and Shanghai, for instance, and games between them would appeal strongly to the rapidly growing army of fans in United States colonies and foreign lands.

McGraw said yesterday that he and Comiskey discussed the project last week, and that both want to go. Comiskey suggested Ted Sullivan as a good man to go ahead and do the advance work. There is not much doubt that enough players would go from each club to provide the necessary number, as well as the quality, if not, that other players could be found to fill in to keep up the strength of the teams. The trip wouldn't be contingent on one or both teams winning the championship. Nor is it probable that there would be any trouble getting the consent of the National Commission for the tour, backed up as it would be by men who stand high in baseball affairs, and who would see that the thing was done in proper style.

Christy Mathewson declares that he would make the trip in a minute. "I'd like to sign an agreement right now to go," he said yesterday. "I felt the same way about it last year and hope it goes through this time."

NAVY REMAINS FIRM IN STAND

Will Not Accede to Demands of Cobb, Crawford and Dubuc.

Detroit, Mich., January 24.—Unless President Frank Navin changes his mind between now and the time for the 1913 baseball season to open, the Detroit Tigers will open the season minus some of its stars. It is reported that President Navin will absolutely refuse to grant the big boost in salaries some of the noted stars, who are holding out, are asking. Navin says he has not refused to listen to the demands of these players, however, but he says he has given them the amount they will draw if they play next season. He says it is purely a matter of business with him, with all the sentiment withdrawn.

Cobb will not get his three-year contract at $15,000 per year that he demands. This is a boost of $6,000 a year over what he has been drawing during the past three seasons. One thing is sure, according to reports, Navin refuses to sign Cobb for three years at any such sum, but it is possible Cobb will be offered a contract giving him a substantial boost, if he keeps in condition with a bonus if he keeps in condition and wins thirty games during the season.

Manager Hughie Jennings will come to Detroit early in February to arrange for taking the youngsters to the spring training grounds at Gulfport, Miss., about February 12. The veterans that sign up or intend to will go to the spring training camp two weeks later. Manager Jennings has been known to Pullman cars and that have real hotels. The red-headed manager has come to the conclusion that it goes with a bonus if he keeps in condition and wins thirty games during the season.

Iron Man George Mullin has sent in his signed contract and notified President Navin that he is satisfied. It is a sort of sliding contract giving Mullin so much money for the season, with a bonus if he keeps in condition and wins thirty games during the season.

CHARGES QUESTION STANDING OF THORPE

If Sustained Would Depose Him as American All-Round Champion.

New York, January 24.—Charges questioning the amateur standing of James Thorpe, the Indian athlete and all-around Olympic champion, were filed this afternoon with James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The charges are important, because if sustained, they would destroy Thorpe's eligibility as an amateur when he won the pentathlon and decathlon contests in the Olympic games at Stockholm last summer, and also would depose him as the American all-around champion, a title he won here upon his return from Sweden.

The charges are based on the reputed statement of Charles C. A. Clancy, Manager of the Winston-Salem baseball team, of the Carolina Association. Clancy is quoted as stating that the Indian pitched and played first base for the Winston-Salem club in 1910.

Denied by Clancy.
Carlisle, Pa., January 24.—Glenn Warner, coach of the Carlisle Indian School athletes, to-night received a letter from Charles C. A. Clancy, of the Winston-Salem baseball team, in which Mr. Clancy denies making the statements attributed to him in a Worcester, Mass., newspaper, and enclosed a clipping from a Boston paper in which he makes a complete denial of the alleged interview. Mr. Clancy further states that Thorpe never played on his team in the Carolina Association or any other team in that league. He states that he knows absolutely nothing that would reflect on Thorpe's amateur standing.

Member of Fayetteville Club.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Winston-Salem, N. C., January 24.—Jim Thorpe, generally considered the world's greatest athlete, was a member of the Fayetteville club in the Eastern Carolina League in 1909, under the management of Charles C. A. Clancy, now manager of the Winston-Salem team. Thorpe has never played with the club here.

Thorpe in North Carolina.
Raleigh, N. C., January 24.—James Thorpe, the great athlete of the Carlisle Indian school and all-around Olympic champion, against whose eligibility charges were filed to-day in New York with James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, is alleged to have played professional baseball with the Hokeley Mountain club in the Eastern Carolina League in 1909.

The positions filled by Thorpe on the team are said to have been those of pitcher and outfielder. He is alleged to have played from the middle of June until the close of the season.

BUFFALO MAN TAKES HONORS

Pinehurst, N. C., January 24.—First honors in the preliminary shoot of the sixth annual mid-winter handicap trap shooting tournament here to-day went to E. V. Covert, of the Audubon Club, Beaufort.

Covert and Allen Heil, of Allentown, Pa., tied for first honors in shooting at the regulation one hundred targets, each scoring ninety. Heil added four targets to decide the tie. Covert registered a perfect score while Heil broke only twenty-one targets.

The high score in the preliminary was Fred Gilbert and Welford Henderson, who tied at ninety-one breaks.

FOOTBALL CLUB HEARSOLD STAR

Blackford, Former Athletic Enthusiast Tells Real Meaning of Eligibility Rules.

Charlottesville, Va., January 24.—Virginia's football star, R. Colston Blackford, of Lynchburg, who took a prominent part in athletics at the University over twenty years ago, has discussed the evolution of the training, or the self-denial as eligibility rules, and referred to the "ringer" and the professional coach. "The latter," he said, "is judged by the points scored by his team and not by the size of the squad or the faithfulness of its training, or the self-denial of those working under him. He may entice the squad so that the discipline instilled and the self-control learned will last those who come under his influence, a life time, but if the team loses he can't get another job as coach. Therefore, the influence of the paid coach is for strengthening the present team, while athletic traditions, future teams, and the morals of the institution may go hang."

"No reasonable student could desire to have the prevailing eligibility rules changed," said Mr. Blackford in conclusion. "Though I know that when being stung by defeat and knowing that you have men in college qualified in every way except the taint of professionalism, who would strengthen your team, that the feeling to do away with eligibility rules will be strong in the long run, however, you will do better the closer you abide by them. If you go astray from them you will land in the professional camp."

Rice Warren, former director of athletics at Randolph-Macon College, coaching the Virginia eleven last fall, also addressed the club on the technique of football as it is played in preparatory schools.

VIRGINIA WINS BY SCORE OF 65 TO 1

Defeats Maryland Aggies in Best Basketball Game of Season.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Charlottesville, Va., January 24.—Virginia's basketball quint defeated the Maryland Agricultural College to-night, 65 to 1, and incidentally many visiting girls who are here for the mid-winter term, witnessed the contest.

The Marylanders showed up well in practice, but when the game was called the Orange and Blue machine got in motion a woeful lack of experience and team work was manifested by the visitors, as they vainly endeavored to hold in restraint their elusive opponents.

The Virginia quint played the best game of the season. Strickley and Rixey were cool-like in the hands of their opponents and despite the attempts of the Aggies to prevent them from slipping the ball through the basket, they managed to register a total of fifteen goals in the first twenty minutes of actual play. Campbell added two and Gill one, the score at the close of the first period standing 38 to 6.

Rixey's performance at center was a repetition of his playing in former games. He out-jumped his opponents when he desired and had a busy time putting up a brilliant game until he gave way to Strickley, the big West Virginian, who tossed two goals during his brief stay in the contest. Campbell and Churchman were here, there and everywhere almost at the same time, and the size of the men did not affect their ability to guard them. The game late in the final period, followed up the ball cleverly. The former scored nine points, and Lyman once dribbled the ball the entire length of the floor and caged it, amid much applause.

Courtney Morris, who played a good game at guard, made the lone point for the Aggies when he made a free toss from foul late in the second half. The visitors frequently took long shots for the baskets upon finding their way blocked.

In the second period Shipley and Campbell engaged in a mixup, but were separated before any damage was done. With this exception the best of feeling prevailed throughout. The game was very fast from the outset and the exhibition was much better than the score would indicate.

Following the game, two boxing bouts were staged. Davidson vs. Meredith and Strudwyck vs. Ellis.

YETTES SON'S BOXING 200.

Governor Johnson Hails Pugnacious Career of Archie.

San Francisco, January 24.—Archie Johnson, son of California's Governor and one of the cleverest two-handed boxers in the West, has involuntarily retired from the amateur ring, which means the cancellation of the star attraction at the Olympic Club's contest, when Johnson was to meet Ernie Clark, Los Angeles' crack boxer, in a six-round bout.

Failure to get the prescribed weight limit was the announcement made by the directors of the club to-night in explaining the elimination of the Johnson-Clark bout. But the real reason was the influence of a stern parent who is occupying the Governor's chair at Sacramento and who discovered that his son, known as "a chip off the old block," was stubbornly opposing the parental decree. Young Johnson's father brought into play the executive authority of the Olympic Club directors, and Archie Johnson, usually of high spirit, is the most depressed individual in San Francisco.
